

Keep Our Beaches Clean Participate in OC Coastal Clean-Ups

There are over 5 trillion pieces of plastic debris in the ocean that is not only harming marine life, but us as well. Local economies, human health & safety, and millions of marine animals are all negatively affected each year and will only get worse if we don't do something about it. In California alone, over 66,000 volunteers have already come together to remove trash and beautify our coastline.

Local OC nonprofits Orange County Coastkeeper and Surfrider Foundation invite you to join the thousands of volunteers doing their part this summer to clean local beaches.
